Armistice Day program. There will be reminders of November Eleventh, 1918, to day. Legionaire Art Meese, Chairman; Assemblyman Hub. Scudder is down as principal speaker. And there are to be other features to make for a full program, including a short report of Convention delegates.

At Sebastopol, this week Friday, observance of the Twentieth anniversary of peace. Who of us shall be there; and what contributions will be ours on that parade day? Time to determine at this meeting.

Speaking of celebrations. Still thinking of last Tuesday night. Our club's fifteenth birth day party. Those twenty six from Napa - Nice group from Santa Rosa - Our old charter members - That full complement of ladies - One hundred fourteen in all - Magnificent table service of the Legion ladies - Nice background for nice program -

Songs and plenty songs, through that inspirational leadership of the only Owen Sweeten - President Eddie Beeson gets 'em going - Chairman Floyd gives all of us cards and spades on how to conduct a meeting - Presentation of many old charter members - Silence in memory of our departed brethren - A delicious dinner - Sponsoring club, Napa, takes the floor - That fine orchestra of sixteen years - Pres. Unwalt in excellent form - Re-presentation of mammoth gavel - Earl Crawford, new Lt. Governor, in sound Kiwanis doctrine - Presti^{di}gitation, clever indeed - By no means leastly, First Healdsburg President, in "Reminiscences", Joe Miller, - an eloquent and touching talk, indeed.

Whence came the inspiration? Not so long ago our club received a reminder from International Secretary Fred C.W. Parker of its approaching fifteen year birthday, together with his congratulations, and with an implied suggestion that we might celebrate. Many thanks, Fred, your timely thought did bring forth fruit.

FOOTBALL

Looks like the BIG GAME will be pulled off ahead of schedule, and right here in the Kiwanis Club to day, between two stars of former times - Dick Blewett, the Cal-man and "Red" Tauzer, the Red-man. Chairman Russ Stevens, himself of reddest Stanford hue, will act as referee, umpire, linesman, time keeper, et cetera, Looks like biased decisions, ain't it? Anyhow, it's bound to smack of "funny football", we prognostigate.

Whether or not we go to Berkeley Saturday, we just can't miss the play-let in store for us to day. If there be scalping in the scrimmages two doctors will be on hand to cement the bones, or the bonthead cracks together. And nothing like this will daunt such gladiators as Red and ^{Dick}~~Walt~~. And so we say, don't stay away.

The forerunner of the fracas will be a post-election feast. Russ hoped to have Culbert Olson and Sheridan Downey on hand to cook the promised ham and eggs, and dish out other courses of the Little New Deal they have in store for California. But, now comes a

FLASH !! "STILL CELEBRATIN' - CAN'T COME - OLSON & DOWNEY"

So much for the preliminary. Now for the main and second act: Such pictures of a football game you never gazed upon heretofore! The U C L A - Stanford battle on the screen. Believe us, - best ever.

THANKSGIVING OBSERVANCE

Rev. Hugh Brunk, of Geyserville, will deliver the address appropriate to this occasion. Fittingly, John Stubbs long ago was selected to act as Chairman of the Day. Healdsburg Kiwanis ever observes Thanksgiving Day; and whatever our troubles, who would say we have not much to be thankful for ?

Last Tuesday it was quite something else. Football held full sway. Red and Dick, in which would lick - Stanford or the Blue and Gold ? And via projecting, Paul Crabb unfolded the innermost secrets of another battle royal. Fine shhotin', Paul.

And why football in Kiwanis ? Why not ? In both there is organization, cooperation, team work. Each is an institution of builders, or building. Both strive for wholesome results. Each labors for the satisfaction of others. Both are out to win. The one is for the well being of a community. The other tries for the goal of glory (more often) for an alma mater, and for the mental exhilaration of thousands of "fans". A good football player should make for a good Kiwanian.

Another Armistice Day celebration has passed, and as is our wont, we did our part with float and followers. Interesting, is it not ? how many Legionaires of our land help make up our service organizations!

Good news. With us to day, our latest baby Kiwanian, Elmer Smith, another sweet voiced son, and in whom we all shall be well pleased.

Good news, again. Our local educator and esteemed member, Paul Crabb, prefers Healdsburg to Honolulu. Let's rejoice and be glad for this.

TUESDAY

NOVEMBER 29, 1938

Just at this bulletin-writing routine (this Saturday P.M.) our chairman Larry Killingsworth and President-elect Harry Latimer are in a huddle to map out plans and specifications for a program. Time out for a possible appearance of John Condit, the husky program fullback, who'll probably be back full of information and signals for the editor-only when it's too late for printing purposes.

John, presumably, is off with his girl witnessing Stanford wallop-ing Dartmouth to the tune of 23 to 13. At least, he's somewhere, else-where, simultaneously and presumably, socially and sparkingly, sequestered. Note: You will find this word "presumably" somewhat overworked, indicating possibly, excessive editorial presumption in attempt to account for the big bachelor.boy.

Fear not, brother; this may be the best session of the whole year. Quien savez ? Who knows all of which means what ? Ask your senorita.

We must make mention of that excellent Thanksgiving talk by the Rev. Hugh Brunk - one of our very outstanding. Walter Christie has a style all his own - was most interesting in matters athletic. It was the delegate's dissertation on the recent District Convention that encroached upon the cleric's allotted time. Should hear more of Mr. Brunk.

Directors' meet this Thursday noon. Last meeting of President Ed. As is our custom, this will be a joint assemblage of the outgoing and incoming Kiwanis parliament. That there was no landsliding upheaval in the personnel due to the last election, will be observed by noting the first three in the following list are holdovers. The group for 1939 as follows: Jim Webster, Temple Smith, John Condit, Floyd Darby, Charlie Comstock, Hick Cooley, Don Oakleaf. Ex-officio members: Pres. Harry Latimer, Past President Eddie Beeson, Earl Adams, Vice-President, Lieu. Hall, Treasurer, Ed. Quinn, Secretary.
