Gave Interesting Talk On Taxes at the Kiwanis Meeting

The tax question is always interesting and particularly now that tax assessments of one kind or another are on the increase. The question was very ably discussed by Mrs. Ross W. Hendee at the Kiwanis luncheon Tuesday. Mrs. Hendee is the state field secretary of the California Taxpayers' Association. By means of charts she illustrated a very interesting talk and facts and figures were shown that made an impression on her listeners. The lady is in Sonoma county aiding in plans for a membership expansion campaign to be inaugurated next week by the recently organized county branch of the California Taxpayers' Association.

An interesting meeting was otherwise enjoyed.

A. M. Burns was present and delighted the club members with a number of vocal selections. Four members of the Santa Rosa Kiwanis Club were present to make up their attendance standing. John Hillhouse was chairman and the attendance prize was drawn by Fred W. McConnell.

Scouts Give Program At Kiwanis Luncheon

About a dozen Boy Scouts of the troop being sponsored by the Healdsburg Kiwanis Club, attended the luncheon as guests of the club Tuesday and participated in the program. Dr. F. J. Kinley was chairman of the day and presented L. C. Cnopius, president of Luther Burbank Council of Boy Scouts, who addressed the members. Alvin Russell, scout executive of Santa Rosa, also was present.

KIWANIS TROOP BOY SCOUTS GET CHARTER

The Kiwanis luncheon Tuesday was given over to the Boy Scouts, members of the Kiwanis troop, about ten of whom were guests of the club. Dr. F. J. Kinley was chairman, and he made a few remarks in which he told of the good that was being done the young boys through the Scout organization. L. C. Cnopius, president of Luther Burbank Council, was present and presented the charter to the Kiwanis troop, and also to Elmer Sandborn, scout master.

DR. TOWLE TALKS ON OPTOMETRY AT LUNCHEON

At the Kiwanis luncheon, Tuesday, members from the Benicia Club were guests, and extended an invitation to their charter night celebration, May 8th. Dr. W. B. Towle was chairman of the day and entertained the club members with a very interesting talk on optometry. His talk was illustrated with charts and devices for grinding and making lenses. The doctor is the only optometrist north of San Francisco equipped for the manufacturing of all kinds of eye glasses.

Alexander Presides At Kiwanis Luncheon

The Northwestern Pacific railway had its innings at the Kiwanis luncheon Tuesday when W. J. Cummings, traveling representative of the railroad, told some of the things of railroading of interest to the public. W. J. Hunter, former local man and veteran Northwestern employe now on the retired list, and John McDonough, hotel owner here and former engineer on the railroad, were guests of honor and were called on for remarks. Julius M. Alexander was chairman of the day.

Gave Talk on Linoleum at Club

The Kiwanis Club members listened very attentively to a talk on the manufacture of linoleum, at Tuesday's luncheon. Clarence Hudson, of the Healdsburg Furniture Company, was chairman of the day, and his guest was Mr. C. Denebrick, of the Armstrong Linoleum Company. He told of the various articles used in making linoleum, where they come from and how long a time it takes to make a yard. It was revealed that the material comes from most all of the countries.

George Sanborn, Jr., member of the Kiwanis troop of Boy Scouts, was awarded an Eagle Medal. Scout Executive Russell made the presentation, and complimented the young man on his proficiency. Few Boy Scouts attain this classification, and he has reason to feel proud of the honor he has attained.

Rex Goodcell Speaks At Kiwanis Luncheon

Attorney Floyd Darby was chairman of the day at the weekly Kiwanis club luncheon held today, and he introduced Rex C. Goodcell of Los Angeles, candidate for governor of the state at the fall primaries, who gave an interesting talk.

Accompanying Judge Goodcell was County Assessor Smith of Santa Rosa, who also spoke a few words. Music of a special nature was furnished by the Ross Evangelistic Co., which is appearing at the Christian church, and Rev. Ross was called upon for a few words.

Plans were announced for the auto caravan to Eureka, which leaves on Saturday morning early for the charter night exercises for the newly organized club in that city. The party will start in the early morning and arrive in Eureka the same day. Those who will go are George Imrie, W. A. Hill, A. W. Garrett, A. B. Stuart, Ed. Elliott, George Sanborn, Charles Sherriffs and Spencer Cooley.

Selection of delegates to the convention of Kiwanis International at Montreal, June 7 to 10, was announced. George N. Imrie, Edward Quinn and Captain John T. Fisher will be present as representatives of the Healdsburg club. Mr. Imrie also goes in his capacity as lieutenant governor of this Kiwanis district, while Captain Fisher will accompany his sister-in-law, Miss Crystal Fox and Mrs. Charles Sherriffs, who will be en route to Europe at that time. In reality there will be five delegates from Healdsburg, because it is planned to have the two ladies present at the functions scheduled.

KIWANIANS LISTEN TO JUNIOR COLLEGE TALK

Jerome Cross, superintendent of the Santa Rosa public schools, talked on the Junior College at the Kiwanis Club Tuesday. He impressed his listeners with the importance of such an institution for Sonoma county, if not possible by the whole the county, then to go ahead under the district formation. He cited a number of sections where Junior Colleges were maintained and the growth of the communities in consequence of the college. Sonoma county, he stated, needs such an institution, and he prophesied a great increase in population through the drawing power the college would have.

Professor E. R. Morehead was the chairman of the day, and the attendance prize was drawn by W. B. Whitney.

KIWANIS DELEGATES TO LEAVE FOR CANADA MEETING

May 25/26

George Imrie, lieutenant governor of this Kiwanis district, and Ed Quinn, local club delegate, leave Sunday to attend the Kiwanis international convention, which meets in Montreal, Canada, June 7-10. The special train carrying the delegates from California and Nevada leaves Oakland Sunday at midnight, and will be made up of ten Pullman sleepers, two diners and one club car. The train will require two engines throughout the entire trip and will be the largest single special train that has ever left California.

The itinerary en route calls for stops at Portland, Seattle and Vancouver, where the delegates will be entertained by the Kiwanis Clubs of those cities. Also a stop will be made at Jasper National Park, giving the party ample time for sight-seeing. Three days will be spent in Montreal, and an elaborate program of social events is planned in honor of the visiting delegates.

Mr. Quinn intends taking advantage of his eastern visit to visit his old home town at Canton, N. Y. He was last there some ten years ago, and is looking forward with great interest to again meeting his relatives and college classmates.

Captain John T. Fisher is accompanying the party and will visit various eastern cities at the close of

GAVE TALKS ON TITLE INSURANCE AND REAL ESTATE

May 25/26

Title insurance and real estate matters were two subjects ably presented by W. B. Corrick, president of the Sonoma County Abstract Bureau, and Walter Price, president of the Sonoma County Realty Board, at the Kiwanis meeting Tuesday. C. W. Comstock was chairman of the day, and Arthur Starbuck drew the attendance prize.

Miss Iris Elliott, daughter of E. C. Elliott, was presented the Kiwanis cup for having memorized the greatest number of musical selections during the musical week program. Miss Elliott, a high school student, was present at the luncheon, and Professor Morehead made the presentation.

The talk by Mr. Corrick was along interesting lines, and information gleaned that was of benefit to all Kiwanis members owning property or buying property. Mr. Price paid a fine tribute to Sonoma county and the north bay section—its wonderful fertility and matchless resources, that today stand out the equal of any section in California. Emmigration is coming this way, he said, and the Redwood highway is sure to attract tourists and homeseekers that will help make this section one of the most prosperous in all California.

New Officers of Kiwanis Are Seated

July 4/27
S. H. Cooley was installed as president of the Healdsburg Kiwanis club at its regular luncheon Tuesday noon, the new lieutenant governor of this district, Isadore Meyer of Vallejo, doing the installing. E. R. Morehead was installed vice president; Frank Corrick, past president and district trustee, J. H. Miller, treasurer, and the new board of directors inducted into office. A. W. Garrett was introduced as sergeant at arms of the club and George Imrie as chairman of the program committee. Accompanying Mr. Meyer from Vallejo were Rev. Father Ed. Jagoe, former Healdsburg man, and "Pop" Snyder, member of the Vallejo club. The program, besides the installation, was made up of talks by both retiring and incoming officers.

ORANGE CITY ROTARY July 11 CLUB VISITS KIWANIANS

The Cloverdale Rotary Club to the number of fifteen attended the weekly luncheon of the Healdsburg Kiwanians Tuesday noon. Palmer Sedgley, one of Cloverdale's progressive young men, who has just returned from a six-months' trip around the world, gave the club a very interesting talk on India.

Kiwanis Club Endorses Junior College Plan

The Healdsburg Kiwanis Club has endorsed the movement to have a countrywide junior college for Sonoma county, the club getting solidly back of the project today when the public affairs committee of the organization, which had been given the task of investigating the proposition, recommended its adoption.

Chairman George Hayes reported to the club at its regular weekly luncheon Tuesday that the committee had been investigating the matter for the past week, and had been in conference with Hilliard Comstock of Santa Rosa.

The plan is to secure 500 signatures from district property owners, as well as a majority of the board of trustees of the high school districts to be included. A special election would then be called by the county superintendent of schools, looking toward formation of the district. A board of five directors would be selected, a site chosen, and faculty gotten together.

The junior college idea embraces a three-year term. The average saving per student over going to the university for the first two years would be considerable, though not as large as some have announced. There are 27 junior colleges at present in California under the supervision of the state university. It is said that those students who enter upper classes at the university are better advanced than those who take their first years at the university, due to more individual attention.

The committee does not recommend the union or district plan of junior college, but endorse the countywide junior college. The committee warned that selection of a site might be contested for by various communities, but the final selection should be acquiesced in by all, wherever it is decided to put it. Mr. Hayes said he was informed Santa Rosa would donate a site, and possibly other places will make inducements to have it established in their districts.

There was a 90 per cent attendance at Tuesday's meet. M. M. Rosenberg was chairman of the day, and Allen Gobbi won the attendance prize. Henry James, former Healdsburg boy, with the Brunswick Phonograph Co., gave a very interesting talk on how phonograph records are made, and told several good stories. Fifty of the 55 members of the club were in attendance.

KIWANIS CLUB FOR SANTA ROSA

The Healdsburg Kiwanis Club has sponsored a club for Santa Rosa. The local club has been working on the formation of the Santa Rosa organization for the past month, and the organization work was completed on Monday noon at a luncheon, which was one of several which have been held recently with members of the Healdsburg club assisting.

Monday noon was selected as the date for regular meeting, and temporary officers were chosen Monday. Donald Geary was selected temporary president and George R. Cadan, banker, temporary secretary-treasurer. The club is being organized with 35 charter members, to which additional members will doubtless be added from time to time.

The next meeting of the temporary club in Santa Rosa will be held Monday noon, and President Donald Geary has asked that Healdsburg members come down and put on the meeting.

CLOVERDALE MEN VISIT KIWANIS CLUB

CITRUS FAIR MENU PROVIDED
IS ONE OF BEST SO FAR ENJOYED

A committee of three, representing the Cloverdale Chamber of Commerce and Citrus Fair, to be held there this month, were guests of the Healdsburg Kiwanis Club Tuesday at its regular weekly luncheon. Those attending from Cloverdale were Charles Sedgley, George Cavalli and Rev. L. D. Rathbone.

The menu, arranged by the ladies of the Legion Auxiliary, was one of the best of the many fine ones they have furnished. Orange salad, in individual half-orange skin cups, and orange ice cream, loaned a touch of Citrus Fair spirit to the occasion. A song on the fair was sung by the members to the tune of "Put on Your Old Gray Bonnet."

Dr. F. J. Kinley acted as chairman of the day. He read a fine paper on the life of Abraham Lincoln, and introduced the speakers from Cloverdale, who told of the Citrus Fair plans and extended an invitation to Healdsburg members of the Kiwanis Club to turn out.

President Fred. McConnell reported on the work of organizing a Kiwanis Club in Santa Rosa. He deplored the article appearing in the morning Santa Rosa paper Tuesday as premature, and criticized severely an editorial in the same paper for its attitude on more service clubs for that city. He stated that there was ample room in Santa Rosa for the Kiwanis Club proposed there, and far from being an over-supply, the new club would force the older clubs to get "on their toes, or lag behind." He said further that if another luncheon club could be organized in Healdsburg, providing sufficient good men could be found to make an organization possible, the Healdsburg Kiwanis Club would welcome it, for it is recognized that service clubs are the best thing possible for a community, and where members can be found there cannot be too many.

KIWANIAN HEAR OF BOOSTING THAT ACCOMPLISHES
RESULTS

At the regular Kiwanis meeting club luncheon held in the Plaza hotel this noon, at which Herman Boos was chairman of the day, J. H. Miller, cashier of the First National bank, made a splendid talk on observations made on his recent trip to Los Angeles as a delegate to the American Bankers association convention. Mr. Miller told of the wonderful development going on there, where notwithstanding the fact that they have not the natural advantages of this section, the liberal use of money and brains there is building up one of the most marvelously growing sections of the great United States.

Mr. Miller told of the extensive public improvements being made, widening of main arteries of travel regardless of the cost so as to provide for the future everybody can visualize, of the development projects being opened and carried through to a successful conclusion through the lavish expenditure of money, of the increasing factory development of Los Angeles, where finances are providing liberally to bring new business ventures into the community which in turn makes a larger community of homes a necessity. He told of the magnificence of the homes being erected by those who have the wealth necessary at their disposal. The speaker expressed the hope that Sonoma county with its matchless opportunity, would soon wake up and do as they are doing south of the Tehachapi.

Mrs. L. S. Campbell gave a couple of very fine vocal solos, Stanley Jones on the piano and Harold Miller on the saxophone rendered several musical duets that were heartily enjoyed and Chairman Boos led in several community songs.

Eight members of the local club have signified their intention to attend the Eighth Kiwanis district meeting to be held in San Jose November 11, 12 and 13. They will also attend the Stanford-Washington football game on Saturday afternoon. Those planning the trip are S. H. Cooley, George N. Imrie, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Quinn, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sherriffs, and Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Corrick.

JOHN PLOVER ON TAX PROPOSITION

TUBERCULAR PREVENTORIUM IS BOOSTED BEFORE THE KIWANIS CLUB

At the regular Tuesday luncheon of the Healdsburg Kiwanis club, Probation Officer John Plover spoke in favor of Proposition 29 on the ballot, an advisory vote to advise the supervisors of the county regarding a proposed special tax of 9 cents per $100 for a period of two years to raise $75,000 with which to erect a tuberculosis preventorium on the present county farm.

According to the speaker the buildings at the county hospital are in deplorable condition, but the crying need is a place to take care of the tuberculosis patients which must be kept separate from other patients and which are now housed on a porch on the north side of one of the buildings, separated from the elements by a canvass wall alone. The proposed building would be a unit of what eventually would be a complete county hospital.

Antonio Maggenti was chairman of the day. The orchestra from the Santa Rosa junior college rendered several numbers for the Kiwanians, which were greatly enjoyed.

The election of directors for the coming year resulted in the choice of E. I. Beeson, S. H. Cooley, Floyd Darby, A. W. Garrett, F. J. Kinley, J. H. Miller, E. R. Morehead, H. B. Rosenberg, A. B. Stuart, W. B. Whitney and M. Earle Adams. The new directors will meet soon and select the officers from among their membership.

Kiwanis Club Members

Pay Tribute To Julius Alexander

Nov 30/26

Tuesday's meeting and luncheon at the Kiwanis Club was one of the finest and most enthusiastic ever held by the local club. It was Julius Myron Alexander's "day" and all united to do their beloved poet and fellow townsman honor. The program, under the direction of Edward Quinn, chairman of the meeting, was a graceful tribute to the honored member.

Mr. Alexander was greeted by the Spirit of Alexander Valley in the person of Clarence Hudson and many interesting facts were brought out by the interview. A key to the Valley was presented to Allen Gobbi as one of the newer residents of that famed place with the admonition that the doors were always to be open to Julius, its loved son.

E. B. Ware and H. R. Bull, old-time friends, were invited guests and both paid glowing tribute to the honored member.

A framed sentiment, signed by the members of the club was presented to Mr. Alexander who responded to the tribute given him with words of deep feeling.

A splendid lunch was served by the members of the Ladies Auxiliary and at each plate was a booklet of Mr. Alexander's peace flag stamps and a boutonniere of violets, his favorite flower.

ROY HALEY CHAIRMAN AT KIWANIS LUNCHEON

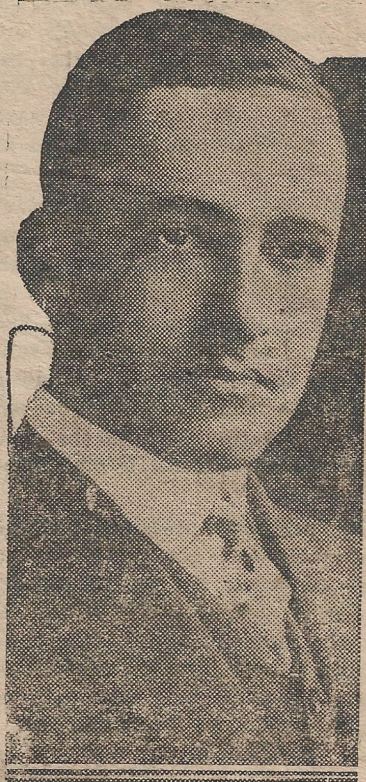

Dec 7/26

The regular weekly meeting and luncheon of the Kiwanis Club was presided over by Roy Haley, assistant manager of the Liberty Bank. Mr. Haley was also the speaker of the day and gave a very interesting talk on the banking business, tracing its history and its growth to the present time.

INSTALLATION OF KIWANIS TUESDAY

The Healdsburg Kiwanis Club held its regular weekly luncheon this noon at the Legion Auxiliary clubroom. Forty members attended. Fred. W. McConnell acted as chairman of the day. Following a program of songs and repartee, the old board of directors held a brief session, at which it was decided to hold the installation of the new officers for the coming year at the next luncheon, Tuesday, January 6th, at which time Chaplain Hayes, new district governor, will be present and act as installing officer.

Good Roads Was Interesting Topic At Kiwanis Club

Sebastopol brought a message to Healdsburg Tuesday on Good Road and hearty co-operation in any movement that would be for the betterment of condition generally in Sonoma county. The message carried special delivery service through J. P. McDonough; L. C. Cnopins; H. B. Scudder, J. P. Kelly, G. E. Burlingame and W. L. Benepe. The parties were guests of the Kiwanis club at their noon luncheon.

Each one had a word of cheer that made one feel that we were all brothers and working along lines of community advancement. J. P. McDonough; complimented the gathering and the spirit of the meeting and suggested that similar meetings be held that would include visits from representatives from every town in the county and he was certain much good would result and backed his remarks by inviting the club members to Sebastopol. H. B. Scudder, Assemblyman elect, was for good roads, and he said he could be relied upon to back every movement headed for better highways and even suggested that Healdsburg get busy on a highway, either on the East or West side, and that Sebastopol would heartily join. J. P. Kelly talked along similar lines emphasizing that all pull together and soon Sonoma county would be at the head of the list.

G. E. Barlingame, Secretary of the Sebastopol Chamber of Commerce, was the principal speaker at the meeting. Mr. Burlingame was prepared to talk good roads from an economical stand point. He had charts and quoted data hearing him out that wherever good roads were constructed that community was sure to grow. He stated that it was more economical to pay for good roads than to buy gasoline, tire, etc., and wear your automobile out over bad roads. The saving in the more miles you get out of your car; the less up-keep you have to meet, to say nothing of the saving on your nerves, would build better roads and you would be ahead in the end.

The visit was greatly appreciated and the Kiwanis club members assured their guests that they were with them in the good sentiments they brought with them.

STARBUCK, FISHER TAKE OFF FOR FLIGHT TO WILLOWS

Arthur D. Starbuck and Captain John T. Fisher, in Starbuck's airplane, took off this morning for Willows, bearing the greetings of the Healdsburg Kiwanis Club to the Willows Kiwanians on the occasion of the latter's charter presentation ceremonies. Flying directly to Willows, the Healdsburg delegates were to arrive early. Over the city a small parachute, made of a silk handkerchief, ballasted with a washer and bearing a special delivery letter to the president of the Willows Kiwanis Club was to be dropped by Captain Fisher. The flying delegates will return early Sunday morning.

FAMED CARTOONIST DRAWS KIWANIS

Rube Goldberg, father of Boob McNutt and other celebrities of the pencil, was guest of honor at the regular weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis club held this noon in the Plaza hotel, and the largest crowd of members to attend a function of the organization in many months greeted him. Mr. Goldberg spoke about some of his experiences in cartooning work and gave humorous quips on many topics of the day. He then turned to an easel which had been erected and drew cartoons of the following, each one posing for him alongside the drawing board while he worked: Fred Young, W. A. Hill, George Sanborn, Ross Pool, Julius Alexander and A. W. Garrett.

Mr. Goldberg said he was a graduate of the University of California in the college of mining engineering and the first several months after leaving college were spent in the city engineer's office in San Francisco designing sewers. "They covered everything up that I did," Mr. Goldberg facetiously remarked, "and then the earthquake and fire of 1906 came along and the water wouldn't run through the pipes, so I had to leave town."

The famous cartoonist spoke of the designing of the cartoon made for the "Red Hot Edition" of the Healdsburg Tribune, saying that he lost east with a couple of million of his admirers for exalting the prune, an object which he had always used to get a laugh by ridiculing previously.

Mr. Goldberg is spending the week in Healdsburg as the guest of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Rosenberg, after visiting for the past two weeks at the home of his father in San Francisco.

Next week Judge Wm. H. Waste of the California State Supreme court will be speaker of the day at the Kiwanis luncheon, Ross Pool being chairman of the day.

Railroad lines were undermined by the storm and railway bridges swept away in river floods in which many cattle and fowl were drowned.

He then turned to an easel which had been erected and drew cartoons of the following, each one posing for him alongside the drawing board while he worked: Fred Young, W. A. Hill, George Sanborn, Ross Pool, Julius Alexander and A. W. Garrett.

Mr. Goldberg said he was a graduate of the University of California in the college of mining engineering and the first several months after leaving college were spent in the city engineer's office in San Francisco designing sewers. "They covered everything up that I did," Mr. Goldberg facetiously remarked, "and then the earthquake and fire of 1906 came along and the water wouldn't run through the pipes, so I had to leave town."

The famous cartoonist spoke of the designing of the cartoon made for the "Red Hot Edition" of the Healdsburg Tribune, saying that he lost cast with a couple of million of his admirers for exalting the prune, an object which he had always used to get a laugh by ridiculing previously.

Mr. Goldberg is spending the week in Healdsburg as the guest of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Rosenberg, after visiting for the past two weeks at the home of his father in San Francisco.

Next week Judge Wm. H. Waste of the California State Supreme court will be speaker of the day at the Kiwanis luncheon, Ross Pool being chairman of the day.

Noted Cartoonist Entertains Members Kiwanis Club

The members of the Healdsburg Kiwanis Club were highly entertained Tuesday at their luncheon by R. L. (Rube) Goldberg, noted cartoonist. Mr. Goldberg is the originator of "Boob McNutt," "Mike and Ike," "Foolish Questions," etc., and was kind enough to show his skill by caricaturing some of the members of the club, much to the amusement of all and pride of those who carried the sketches proudly home. Fred Young, Ross Pool, A. W. Garrett, George Sanborn, Julius Alexander and W. A. Hill sat for their pictures.

A humorous talk following his introduction to the members by his brother-in-law, H. B. Rosenberg, gave some of the highlights in his career. Educated as a mining engineer, the funny side of life was too appealing to him after the big earthquake had put his carefully drawn water pipes out of commission. He began work as a cartoonist on the San Francisco Examiner but finally moved to New York, his present home.

A large crowd of members were present to meet Mr. Goldberg.

MEXICAN REVOLT STRIKES HEALDSBURG

GUN PLAY AND LONG KNIVES FLYING FURNISH A LOT OF NOISE

Jan 26 1926

With terrifying roars, blood-curdling yells and stealthy creeping up on foes, a band of native Mexicans in full revolutionary uniforms of the irregulars, broke in upon the regular Kiwanis lunch Tuesday and terrified the business men of Healdsburg, who were peacefully enjoying a Mexican dinner, furnished by the ladies of the Legion auxiliary.

General Pakrika Starbuck, leader of the gang, was ostensibly acting as peaceful chairman of the day, when all of a sudden he jumped to his feet, pulled a cannon out of his pocket about two feet long, more or less, principally less, and from all sides appeared revolutionists, who proceeded to shoot up the place.

There was one of the largest crowds of members and visitors present that has attended a meeting for some time, and all were thrown into confusion as the room began to fill with the smell of burning powder. With characteristic abruptness, the revolt ceased, and the Mexican warriors began the more peaceful pastime of "throwing the bull," which in this case consisted of vocal solos and a real bullfight in which Matador Skinny killed a four-legged animal with deer horns tied on the head of the leading two-legged under cover agent. The songs were furnished by Colonel Raviola Boos, Senior Mothorn and General Pasto Boos. Then Pakrika Starbuck gave a recounting of his recent trip into the United States, accompanying his remarks with kodak views of his trip.

The club, during the regular meeting, voted $60 from the net proceeds of the recent minstrel show toward assisting Aunt Polly Reynolds financially. Investigation into her case was turned over to the public welfare committee.

The club has had a very prosperous year under Mr. Quinn's presidency, and Mr. Corrick takes the gavel with a great future ahead.
