

"WE BUILD"

On the

Russian River
Edwood Highway

THE BUILDER

Published Weekly by the Kiwanis Club of Healdsburg

TUESDAY

JUNE 6, 1933

OUR JUNE ANNUAL: Once again our club does honors to graduates of Healdsburg High. More than 50 strong are to be with us to day. Chairman Fred Young has arranged for program numbers calculated to please the youths and those of more ancient vintage too. And significantly appropriate will be the presentation of the Kiwanis plaque by the president. A full house, a full program; so Roy swears to the scheme of brevity - even to eclipse that one and only other president, Franklyn D, in his last short cut speech at Anapolis. Even so, the young lady is bound to be well presented - in Roy's councilmanic style.

MAY THIRTY FIRST: Master of ceremonies Bill White and his talented youths from the "Home" all performed in fitting fashion at our Memorial meeting . To add to the dignity was the presence of none other than our Lt. Governor, alias "H C". He spoke briefly but extravagantly on the "exemplary conduct" of Al Garrett while attending the last International convention. Not a word was spoken about the 19th hole, strange to relate. Surely, there must be honor among sports.

"OUR BRAIN TRUST": A small galaxy of our mentally mighty must have been by nature singularly endowed. Words of wisdom, eloquent exchanges, right smart inuendoes, and the like, are much in evidence these Tuesday noons. By all means, Mr. President, let them continue to wisecrack themselves into substantial fines. They need a rehearsal once a week; and the Lord knows we need the coin.

JUST AS A SAFEGUARD: Rumor has it that a certain young Kiwanis foursome from this club are secretly planning a trip to Los Angeles June 25th. It is said they pretend to be convention minded. The latter is unofficial, however. Why not send a balance wheel along? The Secretary has the best of qualifications.

"WE BUILD"

On the

Russian River
Redwood Highway

THE BUILDER

Published Weekly by the Kiwanis Club of Healdsburg

TUESDAY

JUNE 13, 1933

FORWORD: This, in deed, is the good old summer time. Yes, too delightful, too alluring to "hie within", or to "take the pen in hand" for serious thought. Hence, this epistle will be brief. Good alibi, don't you think?

SUBJECT IT TO SAY: That Mr. J.O. Davis, big gun that he ever is, will tell us things we may need to know about that ballot for the 27th day of June. Jim Bowen is responsible for his coming once again to us. But this self-same "J O" can well be heard "many a time and oft". He knows his stuff. Our J.C. Penney JIM will take the gavel from President Roy and perform all the functions as chairman in his inimitable Dick Dead Eye style. All set; let's go.

BUT ONE THING MORE: For a second and final count, we hereby allege that great enjoyment was ours because of the presence of those youthful guests, the High School graduates, at our last meeting June the sixth. Several faculty members, plus Senator "Herb" Slater, Bill Shuhaw, et al. gave dignity and color to the occasion.

AND THE OUTSTANDING GUEST: Gracing the speaker's table, happy seemed to be smiling (and blushing) Miss Lucy Small. Recipient of the coveted Kiwanis plaque, Lucy bore up gallantly under all the encomiums coming her way. Congratulations, Lucy, on your signal achievements. And again, many many happy years ahead; for significant indeed is that meaningful diamond ring.

"WE BUILD"

On the

Russian River
Redwood Highway

THE BUILDER

Published Weekly by the Kiwanis Club of Healdsburg

TUESDAY

JUNE 20, 1933

CLARENCE J. TAUZER:

Prominent Sonoma County attorney at law;
Kiwanian of the regular feller kind; combiner of seriousness and sociability; brim full booster of everything that's good, - these attributes, and many more are predominating possessions of "Red" Tauzer. To day the title of the subject will be unfolded, whereupon "Red" will proceed to speak thereon.

SOMETHING MORE:

Far from complete is the story to date. Would you know about the chairman? Well, you certainly should. But to picture this handsome homo is just about as big a job as to describe Red Tauzer himself. It takes adjectives and adverbs galore. Not easy to analyze a man of parts. Youthful in classic gray, but old in experience at the bar of justice; graceful and suave in social and professional realms; but on a fishing or hunting excursion - behold this variegated man. Yesterday he was in No Man's Land, in the wilds of Humboldt, conditioning himself for functioning at our feast to day. We'll wager the City Hall against Digger Bend that you know him now.

LAST TUESDAY:

Since you heard those clear cut views of Mr. J.O. Davis on a certain proposed amendment, - just how'r you going to vote now? Surely we know where he stands. He left his fingerprints, didn't he?

QUESTION AND ANSWER:

Shall we have swimming instructions again? We'll say so. The Red Cross always does its bit. Nature gives us Russian River. We give our mite in coin. With these three partners entering into the deal, not results as follows: More good swimmers; less danger; wholesome recreation. Cooperation, wouldn't you say? A worthy cause, and Kiwanis is over there.

"WE BUILD"

On the
Russian River
Redwood Highway

THE BUILDER

Published Weekly by the Kiwanis Club of Healdsburg

TUESDAY

JUNE 27, 1933

PINCH HITTER TO DAY: Chairman Len Gilbert just won't down. If he can't get one he'll land another. Just because the Hon. Friend Richardson has been suddenly called to the southland, and away from us, that signifies not with a man like Len. Right this moment he's about to harpoon another big fish who has cruised the salt sea and escaped the sharks. Here's hoping Len succeeds, for if the sailor man comes just rest assured he'll be a real Kingfish.

AT THE CONVENTION: Russ and Cleone are there. While Russ may be our only man to represent the club, he's quite self-sufficient to make an imprint on Kiwanis International. Of course the better partner will be nicely taken into camp by the lady entertainers. And whether or not Russ goes beyond the 18th hole, it will be several rounds of business and pleasure for him. Forthcoming will be a resounding report from Russ.

A GOOD ENTERTAINMENT: What with Earl Showers' stunts, Irving's songs, and Floyd Bailey's dissertation on the Junior College, last week's program was balanced to a T. The usual flock of visitors were on hand, and not a bad time was had by all.

WARNING: If Bill Rumbold should holler while you're on your way don't look for much from him except, "Your wheels are turning round", or some such nonsense as this. Next time he blocks our progress on the highway, THE CITY HALL FOR BLUBBERING BILL - for holding up the traffic. How wise some mortals be.