

KIWANIANS GATHER FOR 'CONSTITUTION WEEK' CEREMONIES

PRIZE ESSAY AND FINE TALKS HEARD IN GATHERING AT BANQUET BOARD

Members of the Healdsburg Kiwanis Club, with their ladies, gathered around the banquet board at the Plaza hotel Friday night for exercises in connection with "Constitution Week," being observed nationally by service clubs, schools and patriotic organizations.

A splendid program was offered, beginning with community singing, the music being furnished by Professor J. E. Nurnberger's orchestra.

President George Imrie formally opened the patriotic program by outlining the ideals and purposes of the Kiwanis Club, working up to the observance of Constitution Week. He told of the essay contest held at the high school, for which the local club had given three cash prizes for the best composition on "The Origin and Framing of the Constitution."

The first prize of $10 was won by Kenneth Easter; the second prize, $5, by Lieuallen Hall, and the third prize, $2.50, by Hazel Bell. Honorable mention was given Rhoda Litton, Agnes Seeman, Mattie Robinson, Faith Powell, Margaret McDonough, David Cox, Walter Albertson, Gertrude Wagers, Alice Beebie, Katheryn Hoskinson and Vernon Michelson.

The first prize essay was read by its author.

Mrs. James Skee gave a splendid talk on the Parent-Teachers' Association and the Constitution, bringing out the need for a constitution in the home—a central authority to which the whole family can look up to and respect.

Harold B. Rosenberg told of the work among Boy Scouts to inculcate American ideals as exemplified in the constitution.

The address of the evening was given by Rev. David J. Donnan. His principal thought centered about the need for better Americanism. There is no need for revision of the constitution, he said; more interest in national, state and community affairs, expressed by general use of the ballot, will accomplish the ideal in government. He contended that America's danger lies not in the "reds," but in the growing indifference of non-voting citizens.

Kiwanians Endorse Bringing Gas to Healdsburg

There was a real lively meeting of the Kiwanians at their meeting Tuesday. Geo. H. Warfield was chairman and a number of matters were brought to the attention of the members. One of which was the extension of the gas mains from Santa Rosa to Healdsburg. The idea being to work in conjunction with the Chamber of Commerce and City Trustees to pass a motion, recommending that the Pacific Gas and Electric company extend their lines to this city during the coming year. Everybody wanted to voice their approval, and one member said there was plenty of gas here now and why wait for more. The Club gave their hearty approval of the move.

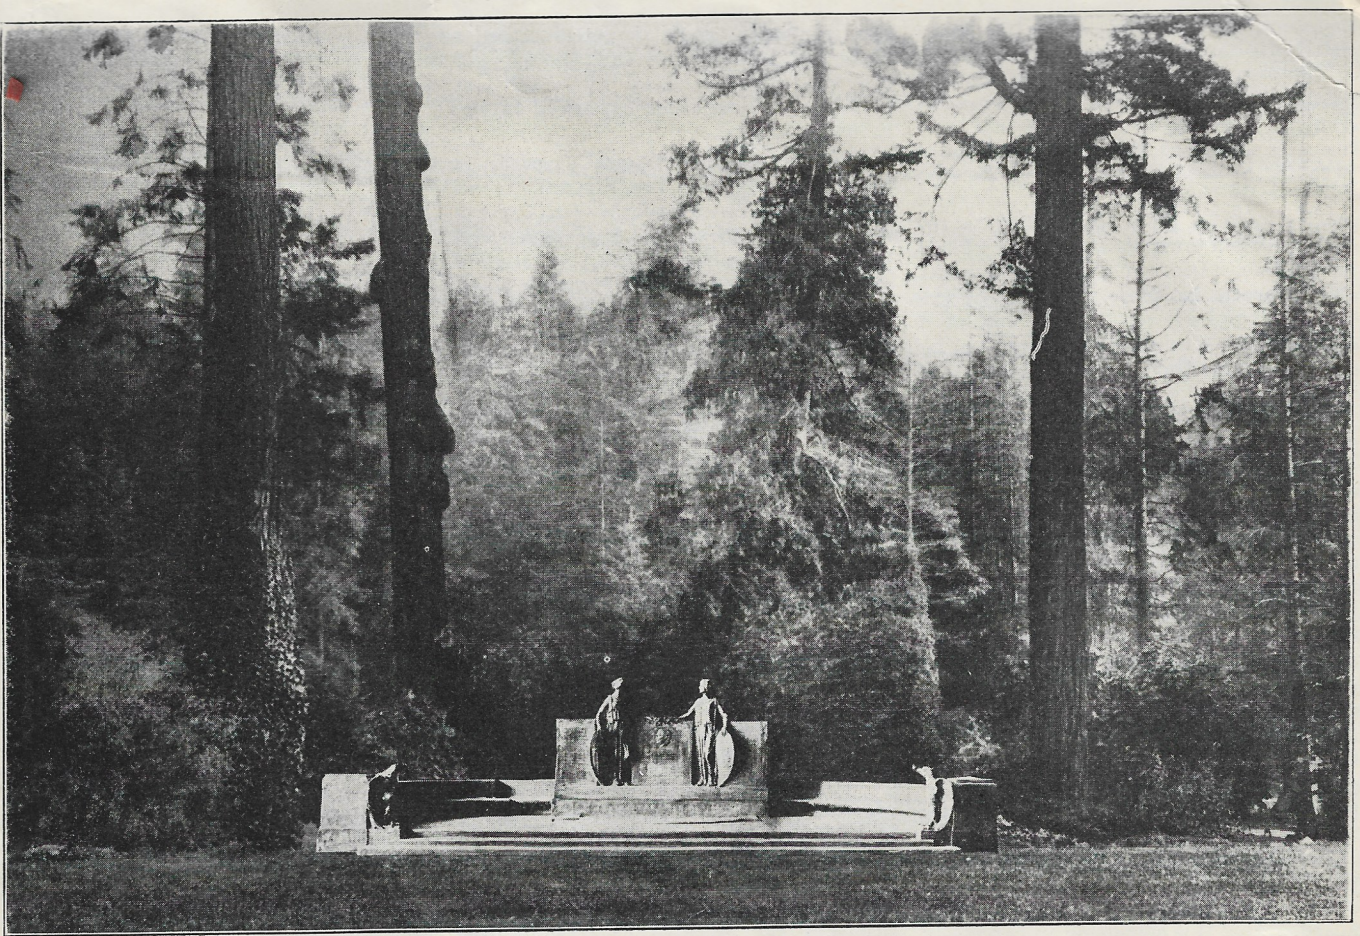

The question of a community chest was taken up whereby some central organization could disperse needed charity. It was moved to leave the matter until after the first of the year, when it was decided to cooperate with other organizations.

At the request of Mrs. Boulden, president of the P. T. A., who stated of instances where help was needed, a contribution from the Club members resulted in a donation of $25.00 and more for the worthy purpose.

Kiwanian Allen Gobbi distributed cigars to the boys as his annual Christmas gift.

The Club voted appreciation to Mrs. Melville Rosenberg for the unique table decorations in the shape of Christmas turkeys, which were placed on the table at frequent intervals. They were made of prunes, with hair pins for legs, and a bit of red ribbon tied around the prune for a head. They were complete with tail feathers and were commended on for their uniqueness.

A Kiwanian welcome sign is to be placed at the entrance of town, on the Highway. The sign is painted and a committee was appointed to see that it was properly erected.

THE AMERICAN'S CREED

I believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic and a sovereign nation of many sovereign states; a perfect union, one and inseparable; established on these principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes.

I, therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it, to support its Constitution, to obey its laws, to respect its flag and to defend it against all enemies.

Club Imposes Fine For Non- Attendance

A real lively meeting was the Kiwanis Club luncheon Tuesday. It was the best for some time, the attendance being larger and everyone present seemed to be enjoying himself. Dr. F. E. Sohler was chairman of the day. In the business transacted was the announcement that a fifty-cent fine would be imposed on all members for non-attendance at the regular luncheons. Sickness will be the only excuse.

A. W. Garrett impressed upon the members to not forget the dance and buffet luncheon to be given by the club at the American Legion hall on Tuesday evening, July 8th.

Kiwanis Club Members Are Interested in Play Grounds

Tuesday's luncheon of the Kiwanis Club was a very interesting meeting. C. W. Comstock was chairman of the day and the question taken up was children's play grounds. This brought out a general discussion, a kind of open forum, with reference to location, etc., and the apparent need of a play ground for the children of Healdsburg. There were many who took part in the discussion. The need of a junior high school was advocated and the two were linked together, and met with unanimous endorsement. A committee was appointed to look further into the matter, with Geo. H. Warfield, chairman.

Kiwanians Postpone Dance, Respect to President Coolidge

J. H. Miller was chairman of the day at the Kiwanis luncheon Tuesday. Arrangements had been made for Kiwanian George Filmer of San Francisco to be present and address the club. Mr. Filmer was, however, unable to be present owing to the reason that he was an important member of the committee to receive the British fleet. He will be here at a later date.

H. B. Rosenberg told the members of the visit to the Luther Burbank Council of the Boy Scouts at Inverness, where the Scouts are in camp. His remarks were interesting and he told of the activities there, how the boys were being trained in various ways to equip them in becoming good citizens. Captain Fisher, in charge of the local Boy Scout Club, had a good word for the progress being made and the success being achieved.

A. W. Garrett stated that the dance scheduled for last Tuesday evening had been postponed. This, he said, was in respect to President Coolidge, a Kiwanian, owing to the death of his son. Some preparations had been made and several cakes were raffled off.

President Imrie stated that the picture of Kiwanian exhibitor

SAVE KLAMATH, IS PLEA TO KIWANIS

A plea to the Kiwanis Club to save the Klamath river, last great stream in California in which the natural-run salmon and steelhead trout may still reach the spawning beds without obstruction by artificial dams, was made to the club at weekly luncheon Tuesday by Edward Quinn. Mr. Quinn, who was chairman of the day, told of his recent visit to the Klamath country, and declared the club should go on record for saving the river from commercial exploitation.

President George Imrie asked for unanimous consent by the membership for the directors to take action, and when this was granted, action was assured. Building of a huge dam at Ishi Pishi falls is now proposed and it is at this, and similar projects, that the plea was aimed. An initiative measure to close the Klamath to power development and other commercial features is to be on the ballot at the November election.

F. W. Cooke, former Healdsburg publisher, was a guest of Dr. Kinley at the luncheon and was called on for a few words. He told of his delight

KIWANIS DANCE DATE SET

The date for the Kiwanis Club sport dance, postponed because of the death in the family of Kiwanian Calvin Coolidge, was announced Tuesday as reset for next Tuesday evening at Camp Rose. The affair is for Kiwanians and their families. David J. Donnan was chairman at the largely attended Kiwanis Club meeting. Dr. F. J. Kinley introduced to the members Rodley Capp of Cloverdale, one of the 2,000 Eagle Scouts in the United States.

KIWANIANS SHOW COOLIDGE RESPECT

Out of respect to President Calvin Coolidge, a Kiwanian, whose son died Monday night, the Healdsburg Kiwanis Club, meeting at luncheon Tuesday, postponed indefinitely a dinner dance scheduled for last night. Two cakes, made for the occasion were raffled off. The meeting was largely attended.

A report on publicly made to the national convention was read. President George Imrie told about the picture of the Kiwanis exhibit at Cloverdale being shown at the Denver international convention, where it received much favorable comment. H. B. Rosenberg and Captain John T. Fisher told about Boy Scout work and of the activities on the Kiwanis troop here. Kiwanian George Filmer of San Francisco, who was to have been the speaker of the day, was unable to be present, as he is on the British fleet reception committee. J. H. Miller was chairman of the day.

KIWANIANS ARGUE OVER WAR WINNERS

Who won the war?

The question isn't settled yet, although it should be settled in a short time, now that the Kiwanis Club has taken up the issue.

Tuesday's meeting of the Kiwanis Club, with Captain John T. Fisher as chairman of the day, and "Defense Day and Its Purposes" as the topic for discussion by the chairman, became an open forum on the question, with which gobs and leathernecks and doughboys have wrestled for six years without arriving at a settlement.

The disputants agreed that the army won the war, but at the gong it had not been decided which branch did the dirty work.

Captain Fisher argued with imposing logic that the artillery did the trick; Herman Boos claimed the glory for the infantry; Jack Canevari upheld the honor of the S. O. S.; Dr. W. B. Towle peppered the meeting with arguments in favor of the machine gunners; while Arthur Starbuck claimed that the honor undisputably belonged to the aviation corps.

The argument was still waxing strong when adjournment was taken. It was proposed, and with emphasis,

KIWANIS TO PROBE ELECTROLIER PLAN

At a special directors' meeting of the Healdsburg Kiwanis Club Thursday, a special committee was appointed by President George Imrie, to make inquiries relative to installation in the city, in the business district at least, of some type of electroliers. The committee was also instructed to investigate the cost of an electric sign advertising the city, to be placed at some advantageous place.

It seems to be the opinion of a large number of the people of Healdsburg that the town is very poorly illuminated, and presents a very bad appearance at night. San Rafael was referred to in the directors' meeting as an example of proper illumination. The electroliers along the highway there are very attractive when lighted, and leave a very good impression with those traveling through that city.

The committee has in mind a survey of the town to learn at just what points lights should be placed, and the gathering of all available data concerning types

Kiwanians Hear Debate On Klamath River Dispute

Sept 10/24

At the meeting of the Kiwanis Club which was held Wednesday an interesting debate was heard on the question of whether the Klamath river shall be dammed or not. Prof. Harold C. Bryant, noted California naturalist, held the brief for the fish and Reed Hayes, San Francisco newspaper man, was on the side of the power companies. Bryant represented the Fish and Game Commission, telling why the commission was fighting for the initiative measure designed to set aside the Klamath river forever as a fish district in which dams or other obstructions to natural migrations of salmon and trout will be forever barred.

If the Klamath was "killed" as a spawning stream, he pointed out, the state commission would no longer have a dependable source of salmon and trout eggs for propagation in the other streams of the state.

Reed Hayes declared that power could be developed by the Electro-Metals Company and the fish life of the stream not be harmed, declaring that the fishway which would have to be erected around the dam by the company would permit migration to the spawning grounds. If anything, he argued, fishing and fishing conditions would be improved.

M. Earle Adams was chairman of the day and presided in an able manner.

A unique card was presented each member by the presiding officer. In honor of Defense Day the card bore the American flag in colors with the pledge of allegiance on one side, and on the other the "American Creed" by William Tyler Page.

A very enthusiastic meeting was enjoyed.

KIWANIANS ENJOY SPLENDID AFFAIR AT FITCH MOUNT

BIG NAPA DELEGATION OF CLUB
MEMBERS AND FAMILIES
ADDS TO ATTENDANCE

A splendid function was held at Camp Rose Tuesday evening, when the Healdsburg Kiwanis Club sport dance took place. The event had been postponed for a week because of the death recently of the son of Kiwanian Calvin Coolidge.

The arrangement, the music and the various touches of originality about the dance floor showed that the committee in charge of the affair had given a great deal of thought and attention to its success, and all who attended agreed that the committeemen had certainly achieved what they worked for.

The party was enlivened by the presence of a host of enthusiastic Kiwanians from the Napa Club who, with their families or friends, added much to the enjoyment of the evening. The music was splendid, and although the dancing did not end until a late hour, there were many who called for a continuation of the fun.

At the buffet luncheon that was served there was community singing, in which all joined with spirit, and several snappy talks were heard. Among the speakers were Nathan F.

UNITY OF COUNTY URGED BY SLATER

State Senator Herbert Slater of Santa Rosa voiced a forceful plea for county unity and cooperation when he addressed the Healdsburg Kiwanis Club at the regular weekly luncheon today.

Greater co-operation means greater growth, declared Senator Slater, pointing out that anything that would benefit any one section of the county would benefit the whole county. He predicted a great growth in the near future for this section of the state, especially with the building of the Golden Gate bridge and the completion of the splendid Redwood highway to the Oregon line.

The Boy Scout committee announced the completion of preparations for the dedication of Camp Rosenberg, the scouts' weekend camp on Mill creek. The exercises are to be held next Tuesday afternoon and evening. All Kiwanians were urged to attend. The two scout troops from Lytton Home are to be guests of the Kiwanis Club at this function, and the Kiwanis Club was asked to buy tickets for the Lytton boys for the dinner. A ready response was made to this suggestion.

R. E. Baer was chairman of the day's meeting.

KIWANIS OUT FOR 100 PER CENT VOTE

The Healdsburg Kiwanis Club is going to make Healdsburg's vote in the coming general election just as near a 100 per cent expression of voters' opinion as is possible through an energetic campaign for registration and use of the ballots. Plans for the campaign were outlined at the meeting of the club Monday and committees were appointed to represent each precinct in the district.

These committees will vie with each other in seeking to secure a representative registration of citizens, and then in getting all registered voters to go to the polls on election day.

A. W. Garrett, who was chairman of the day, told the members that the club was about ready to present to the city trustees a plan for an electrolier lighting system for the downtown section and for an electric welcome sign at the gates to the city.

Kiwanians Find Prisoner Not Guilty

At the weekly meeting of the Healdsburg Kiwanis club on Tuesday, John Hillhouse, who was the goat in a mock trial was found not guilty of appropriating to his own uses an Attendance Prize which was awarded to George Imrie. Some few weeks ago Hillhouse was placed on trial before a Kiwanian magistrate and the testimony heard by a jury of which Kiwanian Filly Whitney was Foreman. Fred McConnell stated that he had been approached by a jurymen in the case and informed that the jury had made up their minds regardless of the testimony. McConnell was the prosecuting attorney. The report of the jury it was learned exonerated Hillhouse completely and dark charges were hurled at the Prosecuting Attorney, the Clerk of the Court and the presiding magistrate. They are accused of framing Hillhouse. It is said that the President of the Club is deeply implicated, as well as the Foreman of the jury. Serious trouble is feared. Otherwise the meeting was very pleasant and peaceful. Ralph Williams acted as Chairman of the Day. The program was made up of the usual club songs, and ten minute talks by David J. Donnan whose subject was: "What Can Kiwanis Do to Best Serve the Community,"
